International Youth Soccer Training LLC partners with Kelme USA to outfit players for their Soccer Academy and International Programs

IYST, January 28, 2003 (San Francisco and San Diego) - IYST has selected Kelme, Inc. as the official provider of all soccer equipment for IYST Soccer Academy and the International Tournament Training Program (ITTP) "Kelme is providing our players with equipment, including uniforms, warm ups and team back packs in our camps and clinics and we are very excited about working with them" says IYST co-founder Brad Hendricks. "Kelme has a complete line of clothing, shoes, warm ups and equipment to support all of our soccer activities for this year and provide some of the best technology in the market" adds IYST co-founder Joe Casciana. "We are glad to be supporting International Youth Soccer Training (<http://www.IYST.org>) in their endeavors, as we fully support their philosophies and programs" says Fabrizio Stampinato, representative for Kelme USA. (www.kelmeusa.com).

Kelme's Breath Comfort Technology reduces heat built up, promoting cooling through accelerated evaporation. Players stay dry and cool longer, while Ultra-soft and lightweight fibers reduce friction giving the player maximum comfort on the field. Kelme has also been selected as the official uniform provider for the San Jose women's soccer professional team, the San Jose Cyberrays (www.cyberrays.com), for the WUSA 2003 season.
